Paint me like a statue,
mold me like a masterpiece.

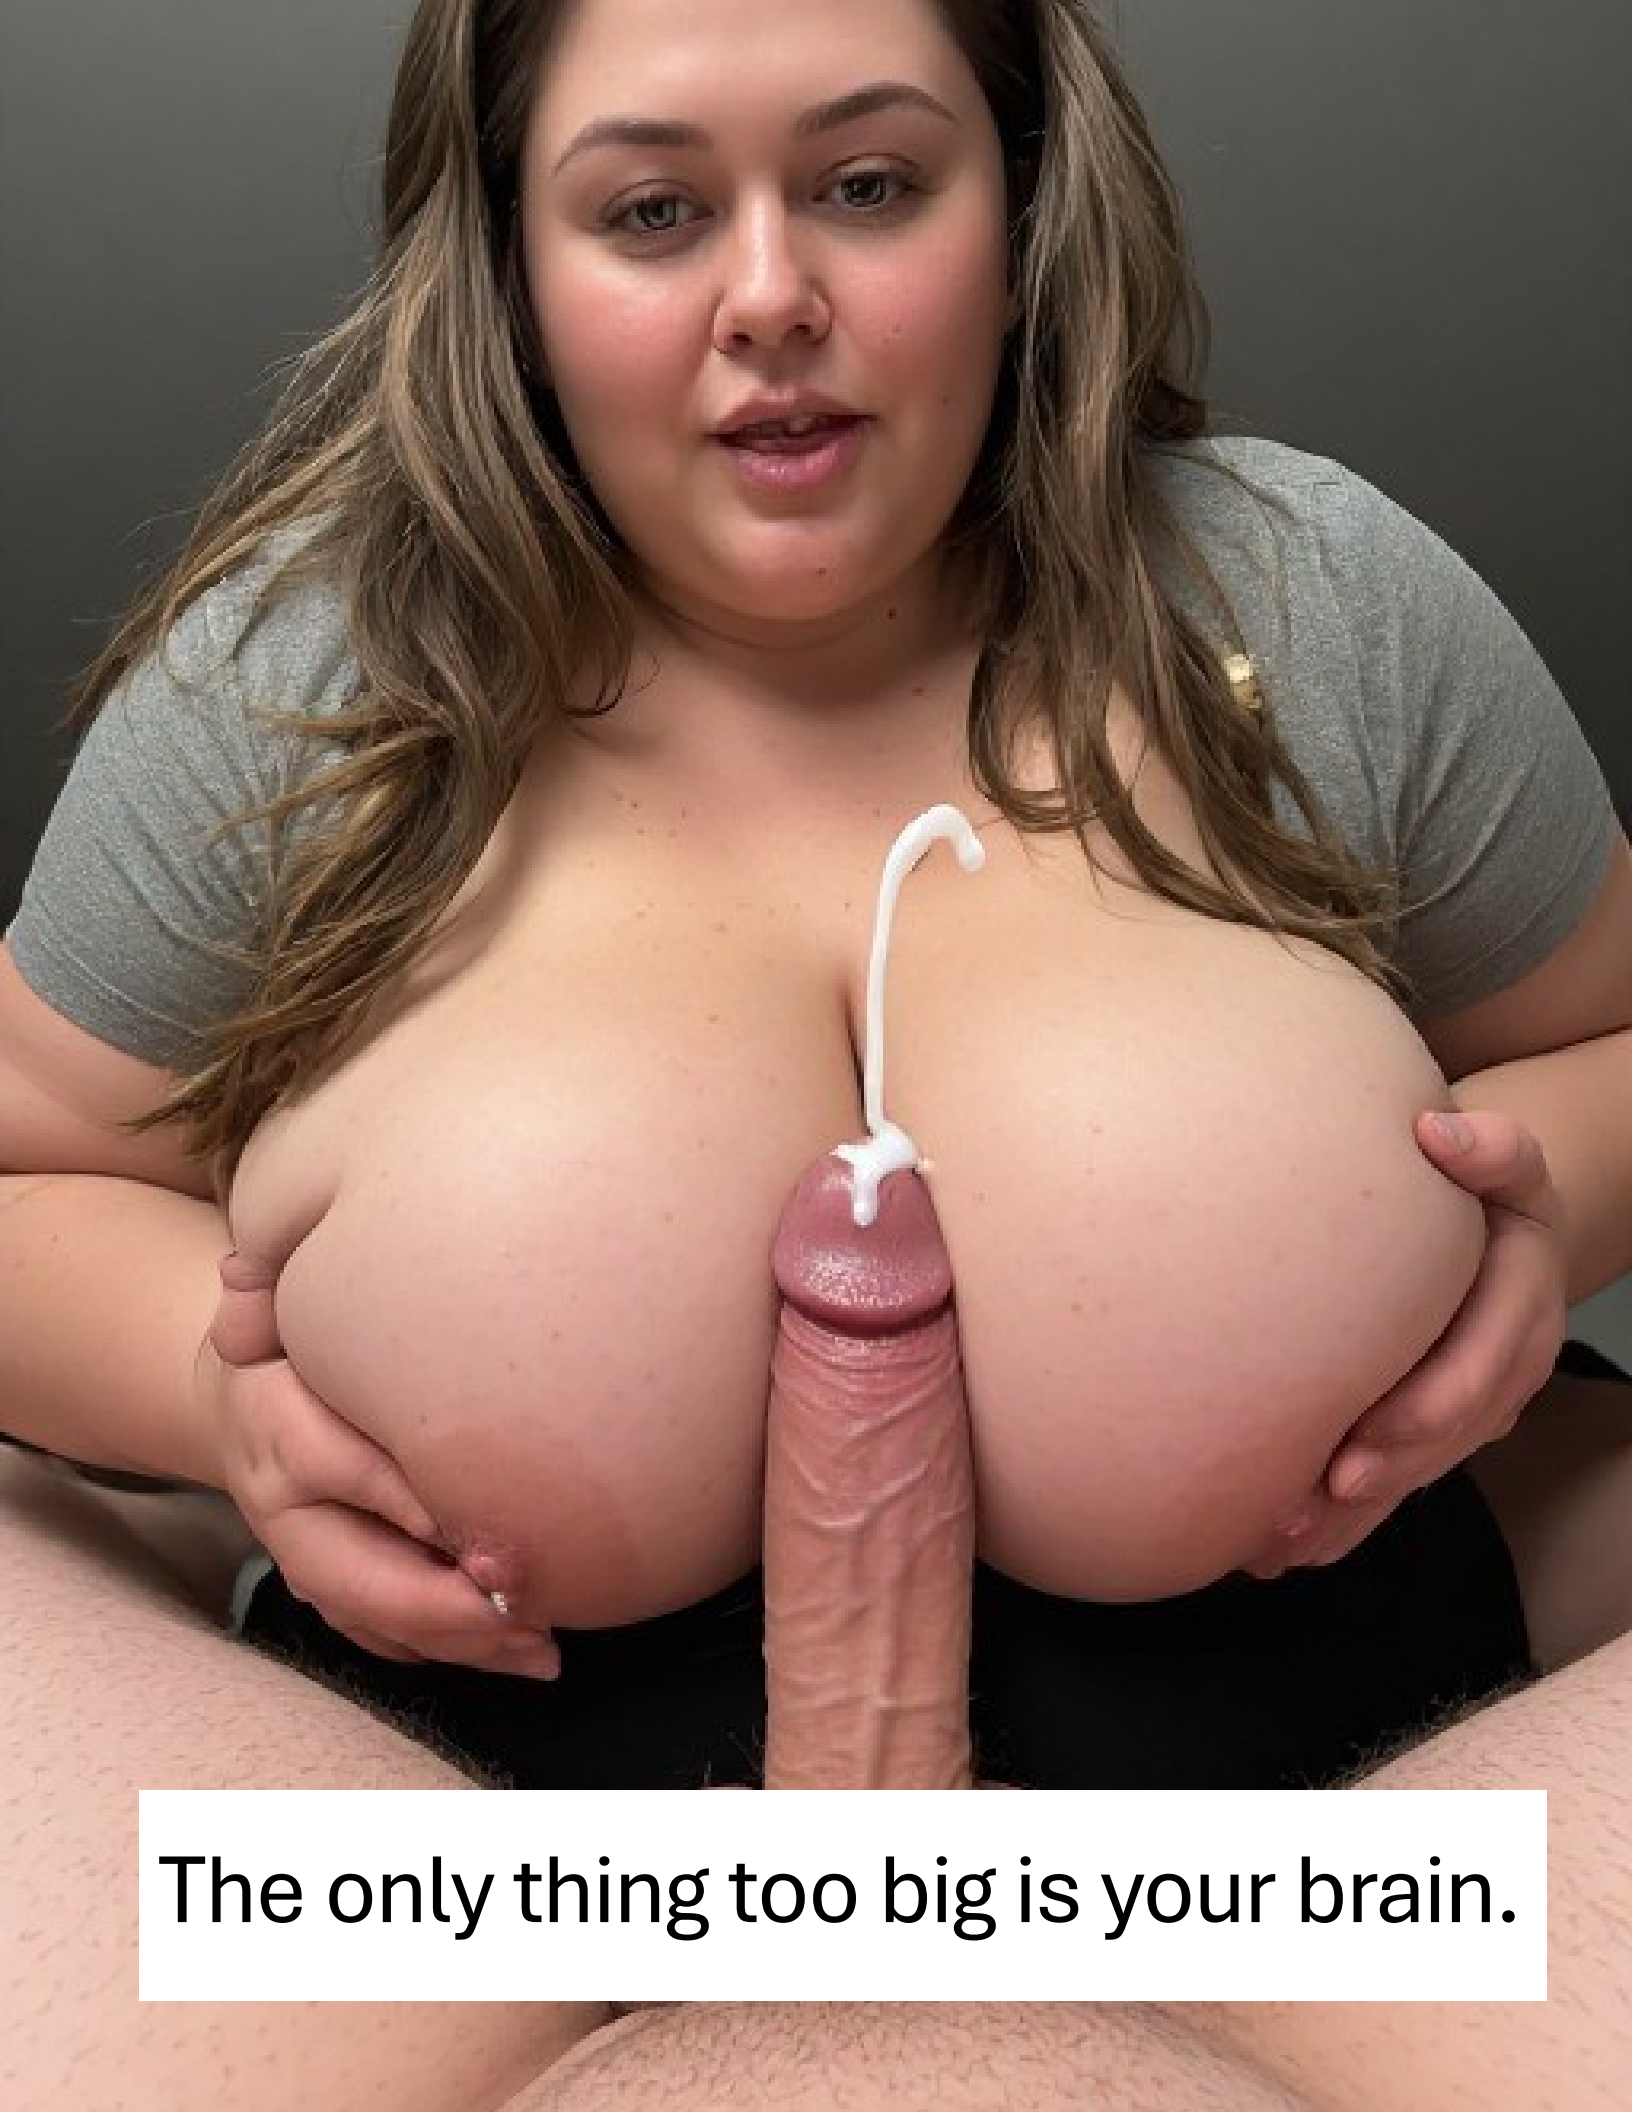

Don’t forget to tear me down after you build me up.

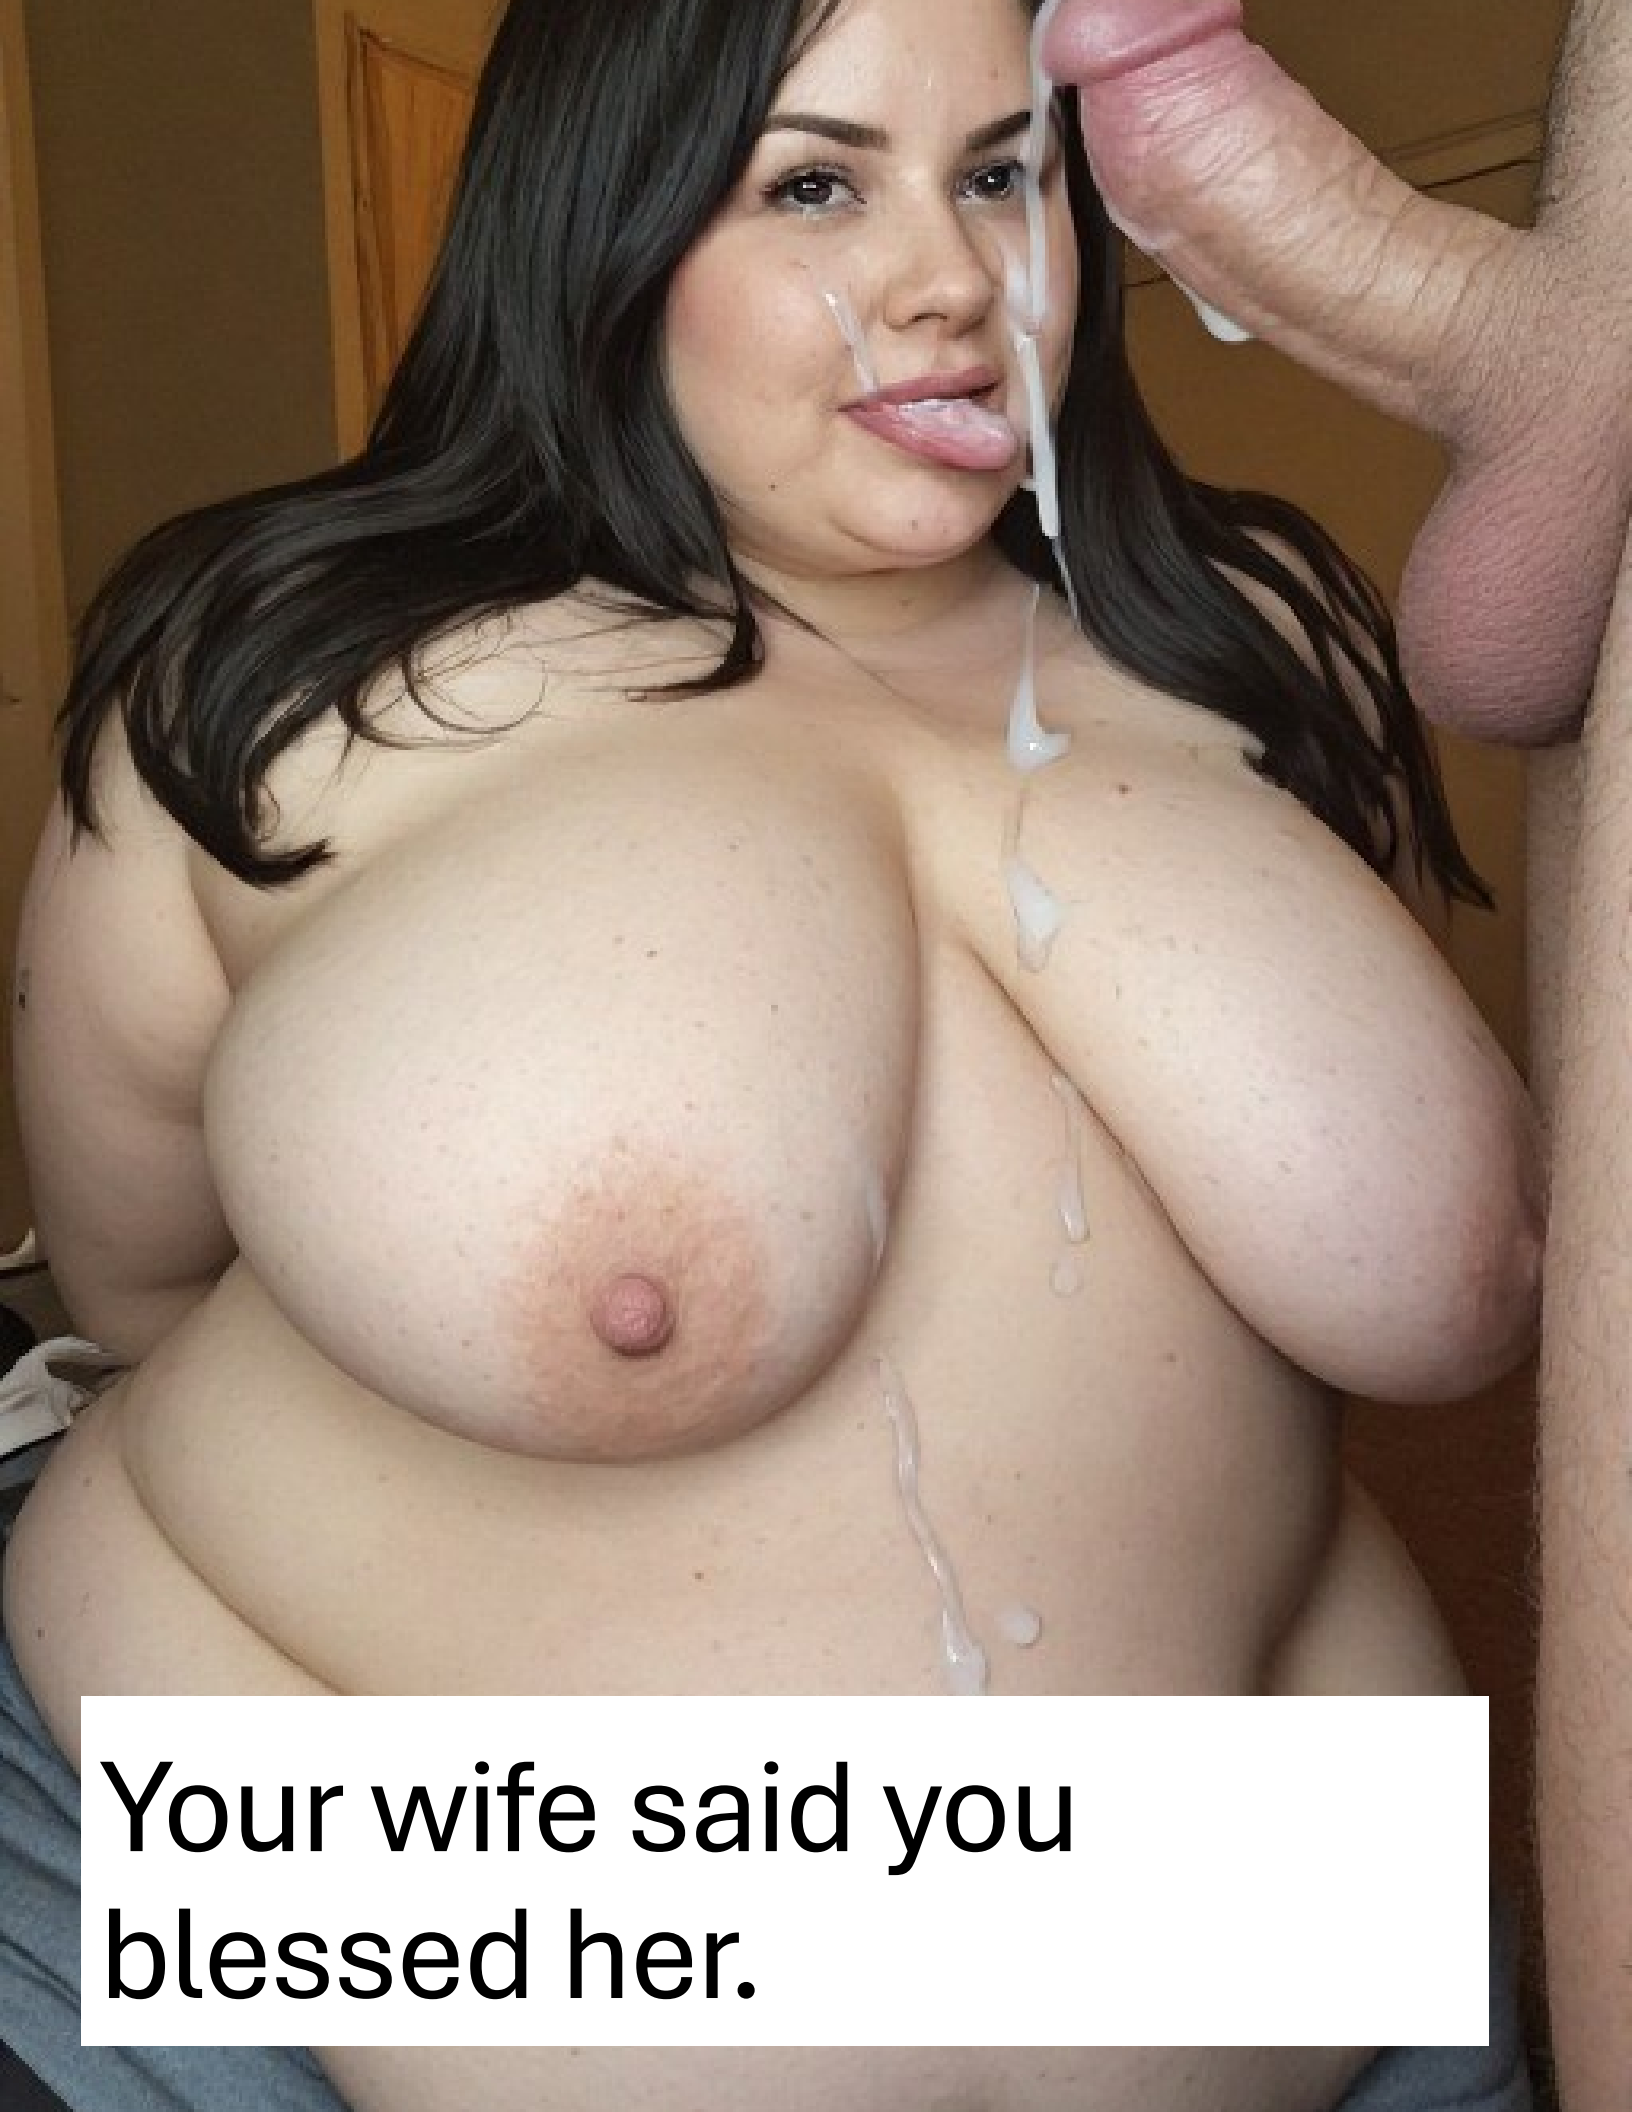

Feed me with this new hunger.

Empty my head full of ideas.

The only thing too big is your brain.

Your wife said you blessed her.

But wears my crown?

You can’t envy the rain before it falls.

What is pretty if not me?

Click your heals like you own them.

Hallelujah is for every man.

Teach me how to know nothing
and owe you a little bit.

A local eruption hurts just the same.

The mirror is like your face.
